STATEWIDE CURRENT SITUATION: Wildfire operations continued Tuesday into Wednesday, and the largest fire continues to be the Eastland Complex. Texas A&M Forest Service (TAMFS) received 3 new requests for assistance with fire suppression operations on Tuesday. Elevated to critical fire weather is forecast for much of the western and southwestern parts of Texas on Wednesday March 23.

On March 21, Governor Abbott amended the Disaster Declaration, adding Blanco, Erath, Hood, Runnels, and Starr counties.

On March 18, Governor Abbott issued a Disaster Declaration due to an imminent threat of widespread or severe damage, injury, or loss of life or property in Brooks, Brown, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Grayson, Mason, Potter, Randall, and Williamson Counties.

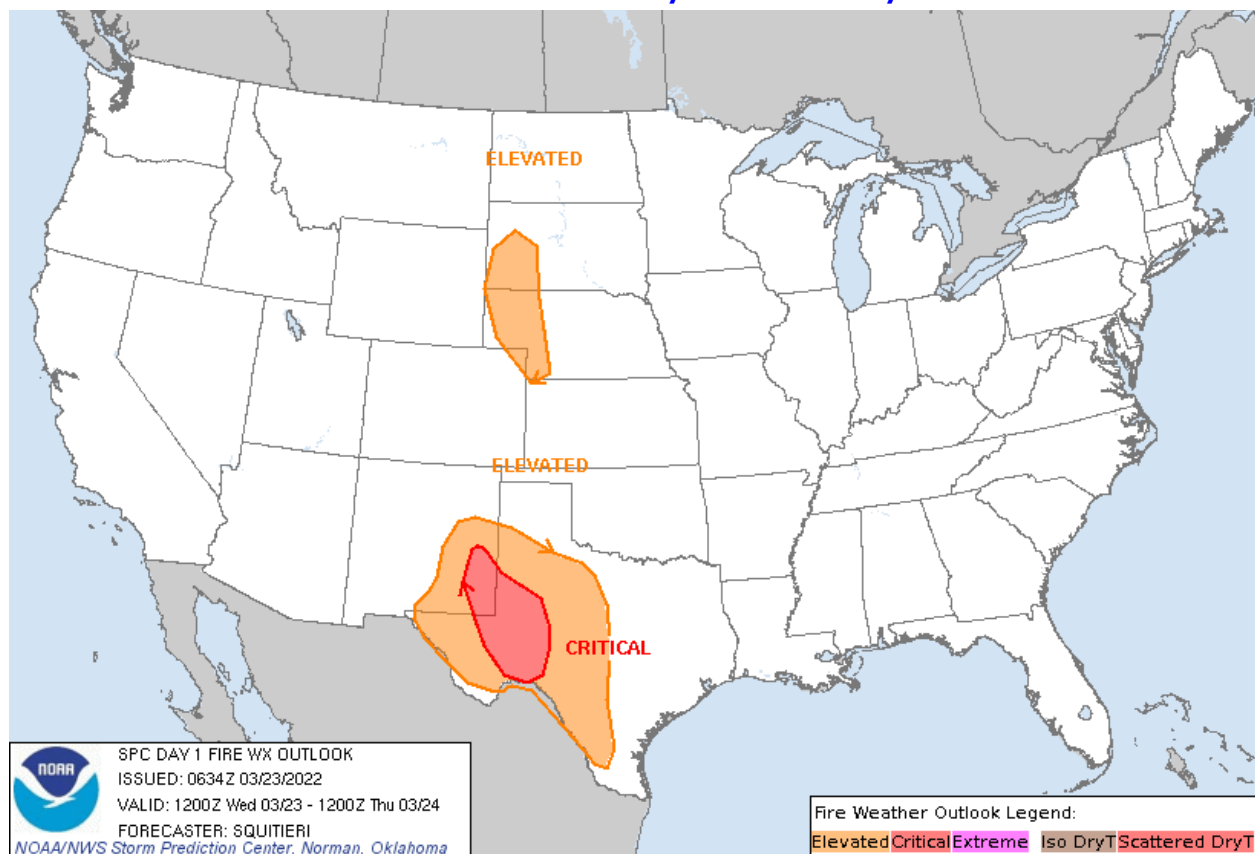

On March 16, Governor Abbott directed the Texas Division of Emergency Management (TDEM) to activate additional state resources as escalated fire weather conditions continue to impact the state this week. In addition, the Texas State Emergency Operations Center (SOC) is increasing readiness to Level II: Escalated Response for Critical Fire Weather Conditions. Representatives from key state agencies belonging to the Emergency Management Council reported to the SOC on Thursday, March 17 at 7:00 AM CT to assist in the state's response to fire weather conditions.

On March 15, Governor Abbott directed TDEM to mobilize state resources as Texas faces increased fire weather conditions this week. The National Weather Service warns high winds and low relative humidity has created heightened risk for wildfires in the western half of the state.

WEATHER:

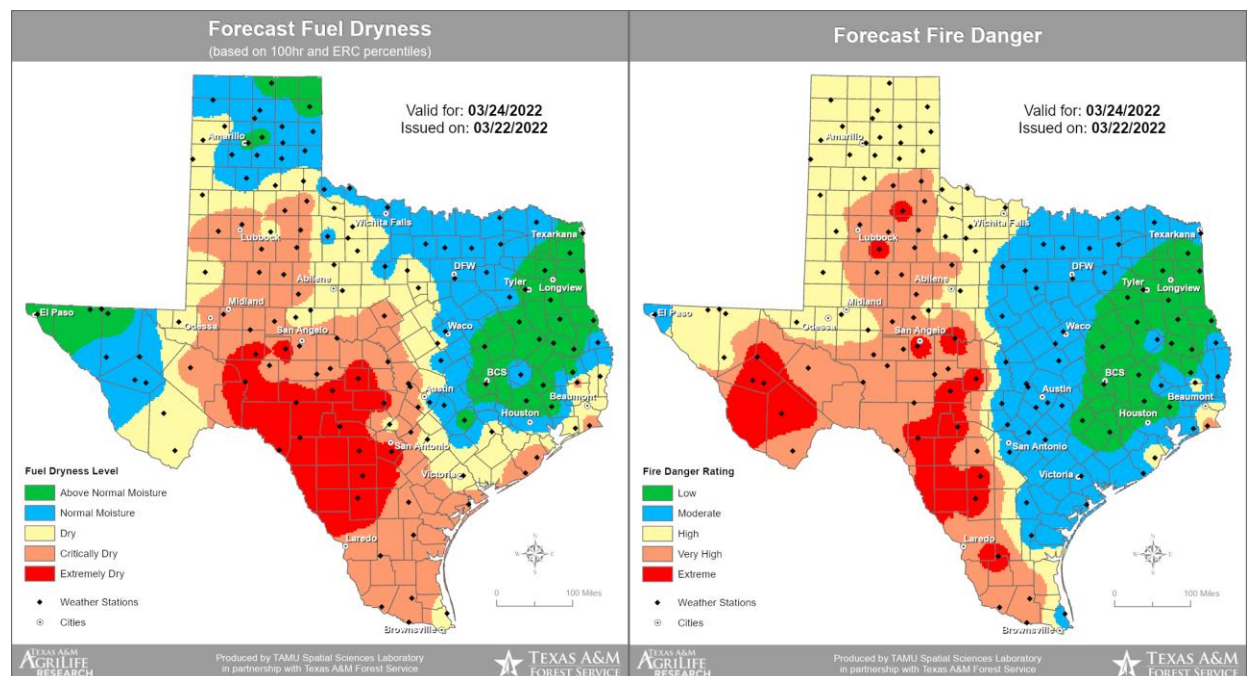

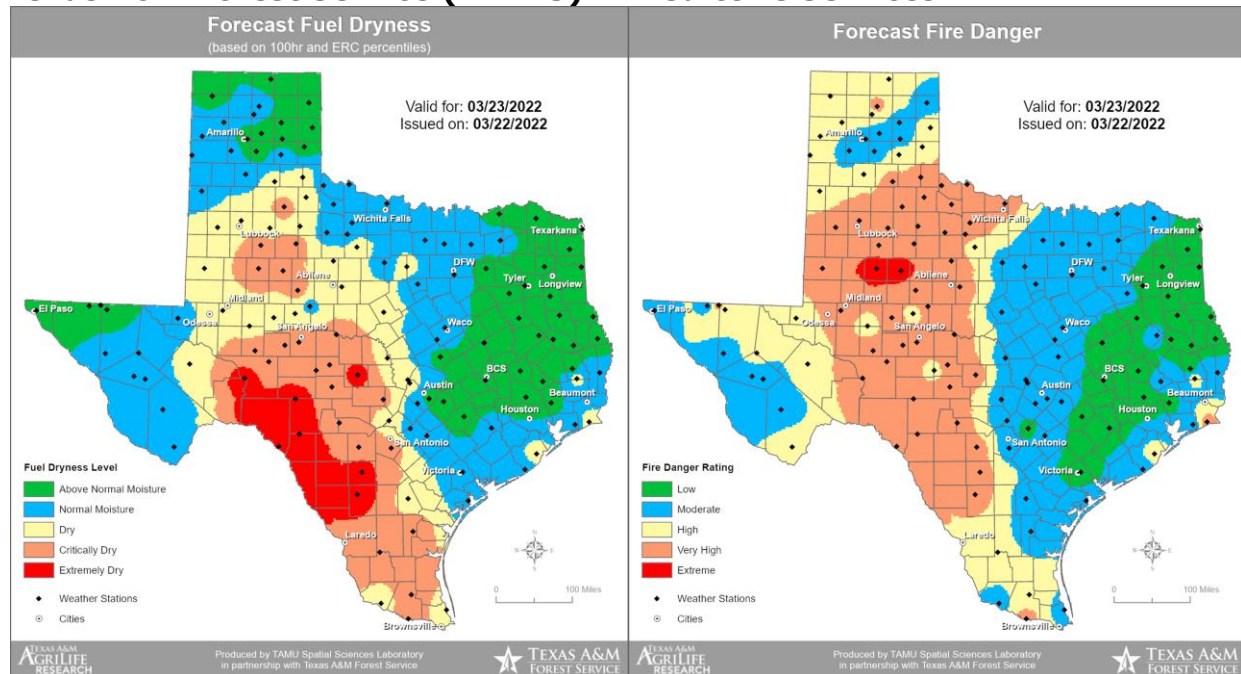

NWS Fire Weather Outlook Valid: 6AM 3/23 to 6AM 3/24.

Day 1 Fire Weather Outlook: A broad mid-level trough will continue to gradually drift eastward across the Central U.S., as a surface low tracks northeast across the Great Lakes today. Gradient surface winds, along with northwesterly mid-level winds on the back side of the upper trough, will coincide to support a deep-layer northwesterly flow regime across the Plains states. Critical/Elevated highlights have been introduced across eastern New Mexico into western and central Texas, where 15-25 mph sustained northwesterly surface winds and 15 percent RH will overspread very dry fuels to support wildfire-spread potential. Farther north across the central High Plains, 25 mph northerly surface winds and 25 percent RH will coincide for at least a few hours during the afternoon. Elevated highlights have been introduced given the presence of modestly dry fuels.
